

Become Debt Free and NOT be at Zero Equity

Many Americans today find themselves swirling in a financial mess...

- Colossal credit card debt
- Massive mortgages
- Staggering student loans

Face it. We've hoodwinked ourselves into thinking bigger and more is better, and it's left us standing on shaky financial ground.

The pundits and conventional wisdom tell you to get rid of all your debt...but they don't tell you about the hidden traps and unintended consequences of following this advice.

Would you believe there's something better than debt free? It's a little-known way of managing your money that lets you grow your savings, reduce your debt and avoid these costly pitfalls.

Have you been rocked by excessive debt?

Private Banking Strategies to the Rescue...

For many who have become fans of our Private Banking Strategies, a powerful motivator has been one that you might not expect: getting out from under the burden of excessive debt. Using our strategy and with the guidance of an expert on our team, many – just like you – have been able to:

- Pay off a $21,000 car loan within two years of starting their policy
- Eliminate $30,000 in credit card debt and a home equity line of credit
- Wipe out $280,000 in medical school loans

- Take out an $8,000 loan against their cash value and use it to pay off the balance of their car loan. The policy started making car payments to their policy instead, ultimately recapturing the interest payments that normally would have gone out the window, along with a portion of the car's value.
